

Asia Books Conglomerate

Asian Content for Librarians

STALLION PRESS

What others are saying about us

"The acquisition of Asian materials, because of the diversity of languages, ineffective book trade and inadequate IT infrastructure, has always posed a great challenge for librarians worldwide. The Asian Book Conglomerate is a comprehensive database of Asian content that is continuously updated. It has made acquisition of Asian materials a breeze and the work of the acquisition librarians of Asian content a joy. I wish to commend the Stallion Press for developing such a remarkable database and having it freely available for use".

- R. Ramachandran,

Executive Director, National Book Development Council of Singapore

Former Deputy Chief Executive, Singapore National Library Board

Former Secretary, General International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions(IFLA).

"Asian Books Conglomerate is doing librarians, researchers and the general reader a great service by putting together a clearing house of the books published by small but nevertheless quality niche publishers scattered around the vast spans of Asia, from the Arab World in the west to pacific archipelagos in the east; from Siberia in the north to the nations in the Indian Ocean in the south. These books deal with various aspects of Asia mostly from Asian perspectives. They are handy, useful books for readers interested in Asian topics neglected by larger publishers and hence hard to find otherwise--innumerable topics given the vast size, enormous diversity and complexity of Asia and its long history and cultural traditions. With the center of gravity of the world shifting towards Asia, the need for Asian studies will continue to rise. ABC serves as good platform for disseminating the knowledge about and deepening our understanding of Asia in its multiple forms and incarnations."

- Lance L. P. Gore, National University of Singapore

"The term 'Asia' is not within the sole ownership of Asians themselves. Both Asians and non-Asians alike are stakeholders in the narratives and discourses of what makes up 'Asia'. Therefore the Asian Books Conglomerate is a timely initiative that captures increasing academic and popular media attention paid to the important and significant but amorphous entity of 'Asia'. The initiative is likely to engage interested global audiences and their perspectives, encapsulating what 'Asia' means from a wide variety of perspectives."

- Tai Wei Lim, Chinese University of Hong Kong